

It takes a noble man to plant a seed for a tree that will some day give shade to people he may never meet.

David Trueblood

Thank you for your contribution to SickKids and to children's health. Your generosity enables us to continue treating some of the most challenging medical cases in the world. By partnering with us at the forefront of children's health care, you are giving parents hope, and giving kids the opportunity to live their lives to the fullest.

Your support enables SickKids to pursue pioneering scientific and clinical advancements in paediatric health care. Millions of children have benefited from our specialized expertise in healing, our focus on learning, and our commitment to investigative breakthroughs. Rich possibilities in kids' health care await discovery. With your help, we will achieve our vision: Healthier Children. A Better World.

With gratitude,

President and CEO
